

HALOZYME THERAPEUTICS, INC.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

GUIDELINES

Effective July 30, 2025

General

The Board of Directors of Halozyme Therapeutics, Inc. has the responsibility to organize its functions and conduct its business in the manner it deems most effective and efficient, consistent with its duties of good faith, due care and loyalty. In that regard, the Board has adopted these Corporate Governance Guidelines to guide its governance practices in the future. These guidelines will be regularly re-evaluated by the Board's Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee and amended by the Board in light of changing circumstances in order to continue serving the best interests of the stockholders.

Role of Board and Management

The Board of Directors, which is elected by the stockholders, is the ultimate decision-making body of the Company except with respect to those matters reserved to the stockholders. It selects the senior management team, which is charged with the conduct of the Company's business. Having selected the senior management team, the Board oversees and monitors the performance of senior management. The primary goal of the Board of Directors is to maximize stockholder value over the long-term. Both the Board and management recognize that long-term stockholder value is advanced by aligning the interests of other stakeholders such as employees and collaboration partners.

The fundamental role of the directors is to exercise their business judgment to act in what they reasonably believe to be the best interests of the Company and its stockholders. In fulfilling that responsibility the directors may reasonably rely on the honesty and integrity of the Company's senior management and expert legal, accounting, financial and other advisors.

The Board determines the frequency of its meetings.

Director Qualifications

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee is responsible for reviewing with the Board from time to time the appropriate skills and characteristics required of Board members in the context of the current make-up of the Board. This assessment should include issues of diversity, age, skills such as understanding of manufacturing, technology, finance and marketing, and international background - all in the context of an assessment of the perceived needs of the Board for directing the company at that point in time. Directors should possess the highest personal and professional ethics, integrity and values, and be committed to representing the long-term interests of the Company's stockholders. They must also have an inquisitive and objective perspective and mature business, professional and personal judgment. We endeavor to have a Board representing diverse experience at policy-making levels in business, education and technology, and in areas that are relevant to the Company's activities. In addition, the Board's Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee seeks to develop a Board that reflects diverse demographics, backgrounds, experiences, expertise, skill sets and viewpoints. Board members are expected to rigorously prepare for, attend, and participate in all Board and applicable Committee meetings. Each Board member is expected to ensure that other existing and planned future commitments do not materially interfere with or conflict with their service and loyalty to the Company.

Director Independence

The Board believes that, as a matter of policy and consistent with applicable laws, rules and regulations, the Board should consist of a substantial majority of independent directors. In no event will the Board consist of less than a majority of independent directors.

In making a determination regarding a director's independence, the Board shall consider all relevant facts and circumstances, including the director's commercial, industrial, banking, consulting, legal, accounting, charitable and familial relationships, and such other criteria as the Board may, in its discretion, determine relevant. All persons determined to be an independent director shall meet the independence requirements of the Nasdaq Stock Market.

Limits on Director Outside Activities

Directors must be willing to devote sufficient time to carry out their duties and responsibilities effectively, and should be committed to serve on the Board for an extended period of time. Each Board member is expected to ensure that other existing and planned future commitments do not conflict with or materially interfere with the member's service as a director. Directors are expected to avoid any action, position or interest that conflicts with an interest of the Company, or gives the appearance of a conflict. The Board recognizes that the time commitment involved in serving on a board can vary substantially based on many factors, including the state of development of that company and the extent of board leadership positions held. In making recommendations regarding a person's nomination for service or continued service on the Board, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee and the Board will take into account the nature of and time involved in the person's principal job responsibilities, other activities, and service on other boards and any contemplated near-term transitions of those responsibilities, activities and service. Taking those variables into consideration, effective January 1, 2024, non-employee directors will serve on no more than four public company boards, including the Company's Board. The CEO will serve on no more than one public company board in addition to the Company's Board. Board members must receive prior approval from the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee prior to joining the board of any company.

Change in Director Responsibilities

A Director who experiences any significant change in their personal circumstances, including a change in the director's principal occupation or job responsibilities, shall inform the Chair of the Board and the Chair of the Governance Committee and consult with them regarding the impact (if any) of such change on the director's ability to continue to carry out their duties and responsibilities effectively and, if there is a perceived adverse impact, whether continued Board service is appropriate. Where appropriate, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee shall review such change in circumstances and make its recommendation to the Board. The Board in its discretion will determine whether such member should continue to serve as a Director.

Retirement Age

The Board does not believe that a fixed retirement age for directors is appropriate.

Term Limits

The Board of Directors recognizes the need to balance the composition of the Board to provide for both the benefit of drawing on the knowledge of directors who have served on the Board sufficiently long to gain increased insight into the Company's strategy and operations with the benefit of drawing on new ideas and fresh perspectives from new or recently elected directors. While term limits could help ensure that there are fresh ideas and viewpoints available to the Board, they hold the disadvantage of losing the contribution of Directors who have been able to develop, over a period of time, increasing insight into the Company and its operations and, therefore, provide an increasing contribution to the Board as a whole. Therefore, the Board retains the discretion to re-nominate any director, regardless of length of service, upon recommendation of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. In making a recommendation regarding the nomination of a director for election for an additional term of service, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee reviews the director's role and the expected contributions resulting from that director's continuation on the Board.

Size of Board

The Board reviews from time to time (and at least annually) the appropriate size of the Board. The Board will consider changing its size to accommodate the election of outstanding candidates or to address specific governance or business needs.

Chair of the Board

The Board elects the Chair of the Board who presides over all Board meetings.

At times when the CEO is not the Chair of the Board, the Board does not believe that it is either necessary or desirable to establish a lead director. The Chair of the Board, who presides at all meetings of the Board, takes the lead role in the boardroom.

Separation of Chair of the Board and CEO

The Board elects its Chair and appoints the Company's Chief Executive Officer according to its view of what is best for the Company at any given time. The Board does not believe there should be a fixed rule as to whether the offices of Chair and CEO should be vested in the same person or two different people, or whether the Chair should be an employee of the Company or should be elected from among the non-employee directors. The needs of the Company and the individuals available who are best suited to meet these needs may dictate different outcomes at different times, and the Board believes that retaining flexibility in these decisions is in the best interest of the Company.

Executive Sessions of Independent Directors

The independent directors of the Board will generally meet in Executive Session at each regularly scheduled Board meeting and at any other time requested by any independent director.

Board Access to Management

The independent members of the Board shall have access to, and are encouraged to contact, Company employees in order to obtain the information necessary to fulfill their duties. The Board may establish a process for such inquiries. Management is encouraged to invite Company employees to Board meetings where management participation will provide the Board with additional insight into the matters being considered.

Retention of Advisors/Consultants

The Board and each committee of the Board shall have the authority to retain outside financial, legal or other advisors as they deem appropriate, and shall have the authority to obtain advice, reports or opinions from internal and external counsel and advisors, without consulting with or obtaining approval from any officer of the Company.

Political Contributions

The Company encourages employees to express their personal political views outside of the work environment. Political statements, support or contributions by Halozyme will be done in only limited situations approved by Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee and will reflect the Company's interests, not those of individual officers or Directors.

Use of Social Media

All Board members are expected to comply with Halozyme's Social Media Policy that provides guidelines globally to all Halozyme employees, agents or vendors and third parties acting on behalf of Halozyme for participation in "Covered Social Media Activities", as defined therein. Halozyme's Social Media Policy mandates adherence to Halozyme compliance requirements and the Code of Conduct and Ethics when using or participating in social media. All the rules that apply to other Halozyme communications apply to participation in social media, including compliance with all applicable laws and regulations; respecting colleagues, patients, and customers; protecting confidentiality, privacy and security; and safeguarding and proper use of Halozyme assets.

Board and Committee Evaluation

The Board and each committee will perform an annual self-evaluation. Each of the directors will be requested to provide their assessments of the effectiveness of the Board, the committees on which they serve, and the other directors (blinded) to the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. The individual assessments will be summarized by the Committee and reported for discussion to the full Board and the respective committees. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee should also report its assessment of the Board's compliance with these principles set forth in these guidelines as well as identification of areas in which the Board or committees could improve performance.

Director Nomination Process

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will review annually the results of the evaluation of the Board and its committees, and the needs of the Board for various skills, experience, expected contributions and other characteristics in determining the director candidates to be nominated at the annual meeting. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will evaluate candidates for directors proposed by directors, stockholders or management in light of the Committee's views of the current needs of the Board for certain skills, experience or other characteristics, the candidate's background, skills, experience, other characteristics and expected contributions and the qualification standards established from time to time by the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. If the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee and the Board believe that the Board requires additional candidates for nomination, the Committee may engage, as appropriate, a third party search firm to assist in identifying qualified candidates. The process may also include interviews and additional background and reference checks for non-incumbent nominees, at the discretion of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee. In making the determinations regarding nominations of directors, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee may take into account the benefits of diverse viewpoints as well as the benefits of constructive working relationships among directors.

Communications by Stockholders with Directors

Stockholders may communicate with any and all company directors by transmitting correspondence by mail or email, addressed as follows:

Board of Directors (or individual director)
c/o Corporate Secretary
11388 Sorrento Valley Road
San Diego, CA 92121
Email Address: HalozyneBoardOfDirectors@Halozyne.com

The Corporate Secretary will transmit as soon as practicable such communications to the identified director addressee(s), unless there are safety or security concerns that mitigate against further transmission of the communication, as determined by the Corporate Secretary after consultation with the General Counsel or outside counsel. The Board of Directors or individual directors so addressed shall be advised of any communication withheld for safety or security reasons as soon as practicable.

The Company will make every effort to schedule its annual meeting of stockholders at a time and date to maximize attendance by directors taking into account the directors' schedules. All directors shall make every effort to attend the Company's annual meeting of stockholders.

Director Compensation

On an annual basis, the Compensation Committee shall review the compensation for non-employee directors. The Compensation Committee shall be responsible for recommending to the full Board changes in the compensation for non-employee directors, and shall be guided by the following goals:

- directors should be fairly compensated for the work required in discharge of their duties;
- compensation should align the directors' interests with the long-term interests of stockholders; and
- the compensation policy should be easy for stockholders to understand.

Stock Ownership Guidelines

In order to align the interests of the Company's directors with the Company's stockholders, the Board believes that directors should have a significant financial stake in the Company. Accordingly, the Board believes that each director who has served on the Board for five years should own shares of the Company's common stock with a cost basis, or current market value if greater than cost basis, of not less than five times their base annual cash compensation for Board service. In addition to the preceding ownership guidelines, all directors are expected to own shares of the Company's common stock within one year of joining the Board.

The Company's executive officers and Vice-Presidents designated by the Compensation Committee are expected to hold a number of shares of the Company's common stock with a current market value (or cost basis for open market purchases if greater than current market value) at least equal to the stock ownership guideline for their respective position. The guideline for the Chief Executive Officer is set at six times current annual base salary. The guideline for the other executive officers is set at two times current annual base salary. The guideline for non-executive officers is set at an amount equal to current annual base salary. The Company's officers are expected to achieve their ownership guideline within five years of becoming an officer.

In the event that the executive officer has not achieved the stock ownership guideline (regardless of any remaining time within the five year period to achieve compliance), they will be required to retain at least (i) 50% of all net shares of restricted stock (including restricted stock awards and restricted stock units) that vests, and (ii) 50% of the underlying gain (i.e., not including shares sold to pay the exercise price) of shares of common stock received upon exercise of a stock option, in each case until the stock ownership guideline has been achieved.

The Compensation Committee shall administer and oversee compliance of the stock ownership guidelines and recommend for approval to the Board any amendments or modifications to such guidelines.

Director Education and Orientation

The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee shall develop and maintain an orientation program for new directors that shall include meetings with senior management and visits to the Company's facilities. Incumbent directors shall also be invited to attend the orientation program. All directors will comply with any continuing education requirements developed by the Nasdaq Stock Market.

Committees

The Board will at all times have an Audit Committee, a Compensation Committee, and a Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee, and membership will be reviewed annually. All members of these committees will be independent directors under the criteria established by the Nasdaq Stock Market. The Board may from time to time establish additional committees as necessary or appropriate. Committee members will be appointed by the Board upon the recommendation of the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee.

Each standing committee will have its own charter. The charters will set forth the purposes of the committees as well as qualifications for committee membership. The charters shall be posted on the Company's website.

The Chair of each committee, in consultation with the committee members and senior management, will determine the frequency and length of the committee meetings consistent with any requirements set forth in the committee's charter. The Chair of each committee, in consultation with the appropriate members of the committee and management, will develop the committee's agenda. The Chair of each committee reports the material items discussed and recommendations to the full Board.

CEO Evaluation

The Compensation Committee conducts a review at least annually of the performance of the CEO. The Compensation Committee shall establish the evaluation process and determine the specific criteria on which the performance of the CEO is evaluated.

Succession Planning

The Compensation Committee shall conduct a periodic review of the Company's succession planning, including policies and principles for CEO selection and succession in the event of an emergency or the retirement of the CEO. The Committees shall report their recommendation to the Board.

Director Resignation Following Failure to Obtain Majority Vote for Election.

In accordance with the Company's Bylaws, in the absence of a Contested Election, a Board nominee who does not receive a majority of votes cast in favor of their election is expected to tender their resignation from the Board, which resignation will be considered as provided below.

Upon receipt of any such resignation, the Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee will act on an expedited basis to determine whether to accept the Director's resignation and will submit such recommendation and any other recommended action for prompt consideration by the Board. The Board expects the Director whose resignation is under consideration to abstain from participating in any decision regarding that resignation. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee and the Board may consider any factors they deem relevant in deciding whether to accept a Director's resignation.
